'Pomp and Circumstance' Begins Its Sad, Familiar Din

Senior Class Officers

SENIORITIS, AN exotic disease afflicting the exalted personages of the school, figuratively clobbered the seniors about the second week in September. However, as the time ticked swiftly for these "most honorable" citizens, they managed to overcome the affliction and set the tempo for leadership throughout the school community. Guiding the class in its endeavors were Janet Nelch, seated left, class secretary; Nancy Cline, seated right, treasurer; Dave Tygett, standing left, president; and Don Farris, vice-president.

Jarred from their lethargy early in the year, the seniors compiled an impressive list of accomplishments. Besides providing personnel for the usual number of school groups, the seniors fractured the orthodox pattern of events. Foremost among the innovations was the staging of the Homecoming dance at Edison Junior High School instead of the gymnasium.

School Life Is Crazy, Man, Crazy

LULLABY AND GOODNIGHT (Top Left)—An "out of this world" staff member labors diligently to create the Lan-Hi.

WHEE!! (Top Right)—That last dance must have been a gasser. At least these three faculty chaperons thought so.
