The production of this Lan-Hi required a multitude of emotions; we laughed as well as cried together. Because of the death of our Co-sports' editor, we were united in a common goal — to design a yearbook he would have been proud to be a part of. Due to our love and respect for him, we, the 1984 Lan-Hi staff, dedicate the time and effort exerted in the creation of this book to the memory of our fellow student and staff member — Jeff Gardner. May his memory never fade in the hearts of all who knew him.
